Sharon was an orphan. Her uncle took care of her after her mother's death. One day, she told her uncle that she wanted to be a primary school teacher when she grew up. Her uncle was very happy. He promised to help her achieve her dream. He advised her to work hard and behave well wherever she went. At school, Sharon always remembered her uncle's words. Therefore, she made sure that she did every activity to the best of her ability at home and at school. She passed her Standard Seven examinations and joined Rebu Secondary School. Sharon and the whole family were happy. Thereafter, she joined Tarime Teachers' College for a teaching course which took two years. She is now an English teacher at Magoto Primary School.
